

Marketing Statement Project Manager (Non-Technical):

WMATA's Office of Real Estate and Parking team is seeking a Project Manager to support the planning and coordination of public/ private real estate development activities on WMATA-owned property. This position will evaluate opportunities to optimize WMATA's transit facilities and other public infrastructure, oversee pre-development planning and due diligence, support construction of transit improvements, coordinate extensively with internal and external stakeholders, and resolve conflicts that impact the project design, schedule, costs, and desired outcomes. Our ideal candidate will demonstrate a high degree of experience, creativity and technical knowledge in urban planning and design, entitlements, and transportation analysis along with general knowledge of factors influencing traffic, civil, and structural engineering and real estate development. Excellent project management and communication skills are also needed to monitor and report on activity progress, project feasibility, and critical issues.

This position generally follows regular office hours but may participate with public meetings on weekday evenings and require occasional travel to different WMATA locations to conduct field visits.
